Dr. Gina Bradley grew up in Blue Springs, Missouri. In 2001, she joined Blue Springs Animal Hospital after receiving her DVM from the University of Missouri.

Dr. Bradley has a special interest in Feline Medicine and sees many cat patients every year. She also loves dogs of all sizes and breeds and enjoys caring for their varied health needs.

As well as caring for her patients, Dr. Bradley enjoys organizing the Kitten Adoption Program at the hospital. In a typical year, over two hundred kittens are vaccinated, spayed or neutered, and placed in new homes through the program.

Dr. Bradley has completed advanced training courses in veterinary ultrasound and enjoys using ultrasound to diagnose internal abdominal conditions. Dr. Bradley is happy to accept second opinions or referrals from the area for veterinary ultrasound and ultrasound guided aspirates or biopsy of abdominal organs.

Dr. Bradley has been happily married to her husband, Brian, since 1995. The Bradley's two children, Benjamin and Logan, keep Dr. Bradley active and on her toes.

The Bradley family is rounded out by their Mastiff Mo, whom the Bradley boys loving refer to as "their little brother", as well as a small herd of cats - Calvin, Drew, Joey.

For fun, Dr. Bradley enjoys planting tulips, camping, and eating sushi with friends.
